25 patients under anticoagulant therapy for various conditions were given glutethimide, a non-barbiturate hypnotic. The hypnotic action was effective in 100% of the cases without any definite side effects. Because of persistent insomnia, all the patients had received barbiturates which invariably reduced the prothrombin time (Biological Sciences--Pharmacology, TT, v. 9, no. 4)

Experience in the treatment of 20 patients is reported. Twelve of these patients had previously been treated with sulfones, to which most had been intolerant. A daily beginning dose of 500 mg was increased by 500 mg each week to a maximal dose in some cases of 3 g. Tolerance was good. The patients not previously treated showed best results (flattening and absorption of the lepromata, regression of infiltration of plaques, regression of spots). Case histories are included.
